

HOW DO YOU LOOK TODAY?

With Miranda van Commenée, Stylist & Personal Shopper

JASPER TER STROOT

Job Lecturer in business economics at St. Ignatius Gymnasium Amsterdam

Age 44, married with 2 sons

Lives in Diemen, close to the city and close to the outdoors (great for running!)

Jasper is wearing

Chino, colbert, carcaot, coltrui by Atelier Munro and shoes by Andrea Ventura.

Jasper wanted a business casual outfit with a classic twist.

This outfit in light shades is on-trend for this season. By combining these light shades the result doesn't come across as too businesslike, but feels more casual and laid-back. Wearing a jacket over a turtleneck is also a less formal look, and that paired with these casual chinos makes for a smart-casual style.

What's your favourite place to shop?

Online. Offline recently in Den Bosch and I also have good memories of Maastricht.

Most expensive garment ever?

A long winter dress coat by Hugo Boss (650 euro) to wear over a suit. Should have done that years earlier.

Tie or sneakers?

Sneakers, but I'm all for making ties 'mandatory' again at official functions.

Favourite shoe brand?

Floris van Bommel, (Hugo) Boss.

What's still missing from your wardrobe?

Too few colours besides blue...

What's your styling request?

I want a business casual outfit with a subtle timeless twist.

According to Miranda, you never have a second chance to make a first impression. As a stylist, she helps everyone discover and craft their own unique style. 'The clothes you wear are a reflection of your identity', Miranda points out. 'When you wear pieces in the right colours that fit well, you feel more self-assured. And that carries through in your image, both professionally and personally.'
